

HEALTH AND SAFETY AT WORK

It is the policy of Particle Measuring Systems (PMS) to ensure every step is taken to ensure a healthy and safe working environment for all employees. PMS will do all that is reasonably practicable to prevent personal injury and damage to property, to protect everyone from foreseeable hazards and to pursue arrangements which are aimed at:

- Integrating health and safety considerations into its daily business, including operations, training and communications
- Operating high standards for health and safety management, which will reduce incidents and accidents to the lowest practicable level
- Adopting and monitoring appropriate occupational health programs, which support a safe and healthy working environment
- Ensure employees at all levels are trained in and are aware of their responsibilities and duties for health and safety under this policy and according to legislation and regulations
- Promoting Particle Measuring Systems health and action program

Equally, it is the duty of every employee to take reasonable care for the health and safety of themselves, fellow workers or other persons who may be affected by their actions at work, and to co-operate with any other employee to enable statutory duties or requirements to be fulfilled.
